THE ESSENCE OF COMFORT

FabricAir is exhibiting in Hall 24, booth no. A01 .

During the tradeshow, you can meet our engineers to discuss specific projects or learn more about fabric-based ventilation solutions. Our Smart Air Solutions are much more energy friendly than their conventional metal counterparts; lower pressure drop, easy cleaning, lightweight design, flexible design – it all adds together to create a superior air dispersion solution. At our stand, we will be showcasing the latest air engineering technologies using fabric air dispersion.

Organizers expect more than 2.000 HVAC/R and energy efficiency companies to come together sharing ideas, showcasing their technology and networking across borders. More than 155,000 visitors from 141 countries are expected to gather in Milano to explore the future of heating, cooling, water and energy in buildings.
