

Company news

Vil du med på Ajour?

21st November 2018

Torsdag og fredag i uge 48 udstiller vi på Ajour-messen i Odense. På stand nr. 3336 står vi klar til at fremvise det bedste indenfor effektiv og hygiejnisk industriel køling.

Read more

Meet us at the TGA Conference in Vienna

15th October 2018

We look forward to welcoming you to our booth at the TGA Conference. Here you will find the latest trends and technologies within fabric-based air distribution.

Read more

The Future of Air Dispersion

3rd September 2018

Over the past 45 years, FabricAir dispersion technology has become globally renowned for its flexibility and core benefits like draft-free, condensation-free, noiseless, corrosion-free and hygienic. With a proven track record and as leading experts in field of air engineering technology, FabricAir continues to set the global industry standards to be at the forefront of HVAC/R innovation and indoor climate solutions.

Read more

Raising the bar within the field of HVAC/R

31st August 2018

When FabricAir launched the world's first fabric duct in 1973 it became a gamechanger. It is the story of how a small company, based in Denmark, grew to become a world leading innovator within HVAC/R, with customers all across the globe and sales offices or distributors in all major regions.

Read more

Global Financial Crisis Leads to Growth and Expansion

30th August 2018

At the turn of the millennium, the newly independent IPS Ventilation A/S was finding its foothold. The decade became a turning point in the company's history with new subsidiaries, new ownership structure and the onset of a global financial crisis, which turned out to be a crock of gold for an innovative alternative technology in an old-fashioned industry like the construction sector.

Read more